Broadway Picks Out Giants To Win National Loop Fla.

BACK NEW YORK TEAM AT 2 TO 1

No Standout Club Listed Among Big Five; Sharpshooters Laying Bets on Big Hunch; McGraw Needs Hurlers

By DAVIS J. WASH

New York, June 7.—For some reason or maybe none at all, Broadway has decided that the New York Giants are going to win the National League pennant and is making its bets accordingly. In several of the uptown pool rooms today, the Giants were held at the rather short price of 2 to 1, whereas one could get a half dollar extra for one's money provided it was riding on the Reds, Cubs or Cardinals. The Pirates were 3 to 1. There may be sense in these odds but not much.

Wall Street, for example, knows the nickel just how much a bet should be worth and has rated the five admitted contenders in a dead heat somewhere in the neighborhood of 3 to 1, which is as it should be, considering the fact that the Reds, Cards, Giants and Cubs are separated by only three games and the Pirates are conceded to be better than they have looked to date. This point, in fact, is very well taken. They couldn't be worse.

No Standout Club

The fact of the matter is that there isn't a stand-out club in the Big Five and, if the so-called sharpshooters are betting the Giants, they are doing so on a hunch. McGraw's abiding difficulty has been to get more than two pitchers who can go out there and finish what they started. The outfit has made its share of errors and Jackson, once said to be the "perfect shortstop," has blown himself to a most indifferent season so far. But pitching, or lack of it, is the Giants' bummer. In the final analysis or in the first, for that matter, they say McGraw could have had Burwell, who finally landed with the Pirates from Indianapolis. It is true, in any case, that he made no effort to bid in Clarence Mitchell, who has remained in the league well past his time purely on his ability to harass the Giants. He relieved Alexander and helped to beat them again yesterday, so maybe McGraw is due to release another interview. The last one made him say that he was satisfied with the Giants' pitching.

Back Depend on Cubs

However, there isn't a contender that hasn't left some question unanswered to date. With the Reds, the question is whether Clegg, around whom the success of the outfit revolves,

The Cards have been weakened so far at a point where everyone expected them to be strong. Alexander and Haines, who won some 42 games between them last year, have won only about half of their games and Shetler also is having an ordinary season. Thome and Heinert have been carrying the club and the intellectual claim Heinert won't stand prosper. Anyhow, the Cardinals look no better than anybody else in the race, which automatically prohibits a comparison with the Pirates. They simply have been shot to pieces with one thing and another, mostly both, but they have too much speed to run in the company they are keeping at present.

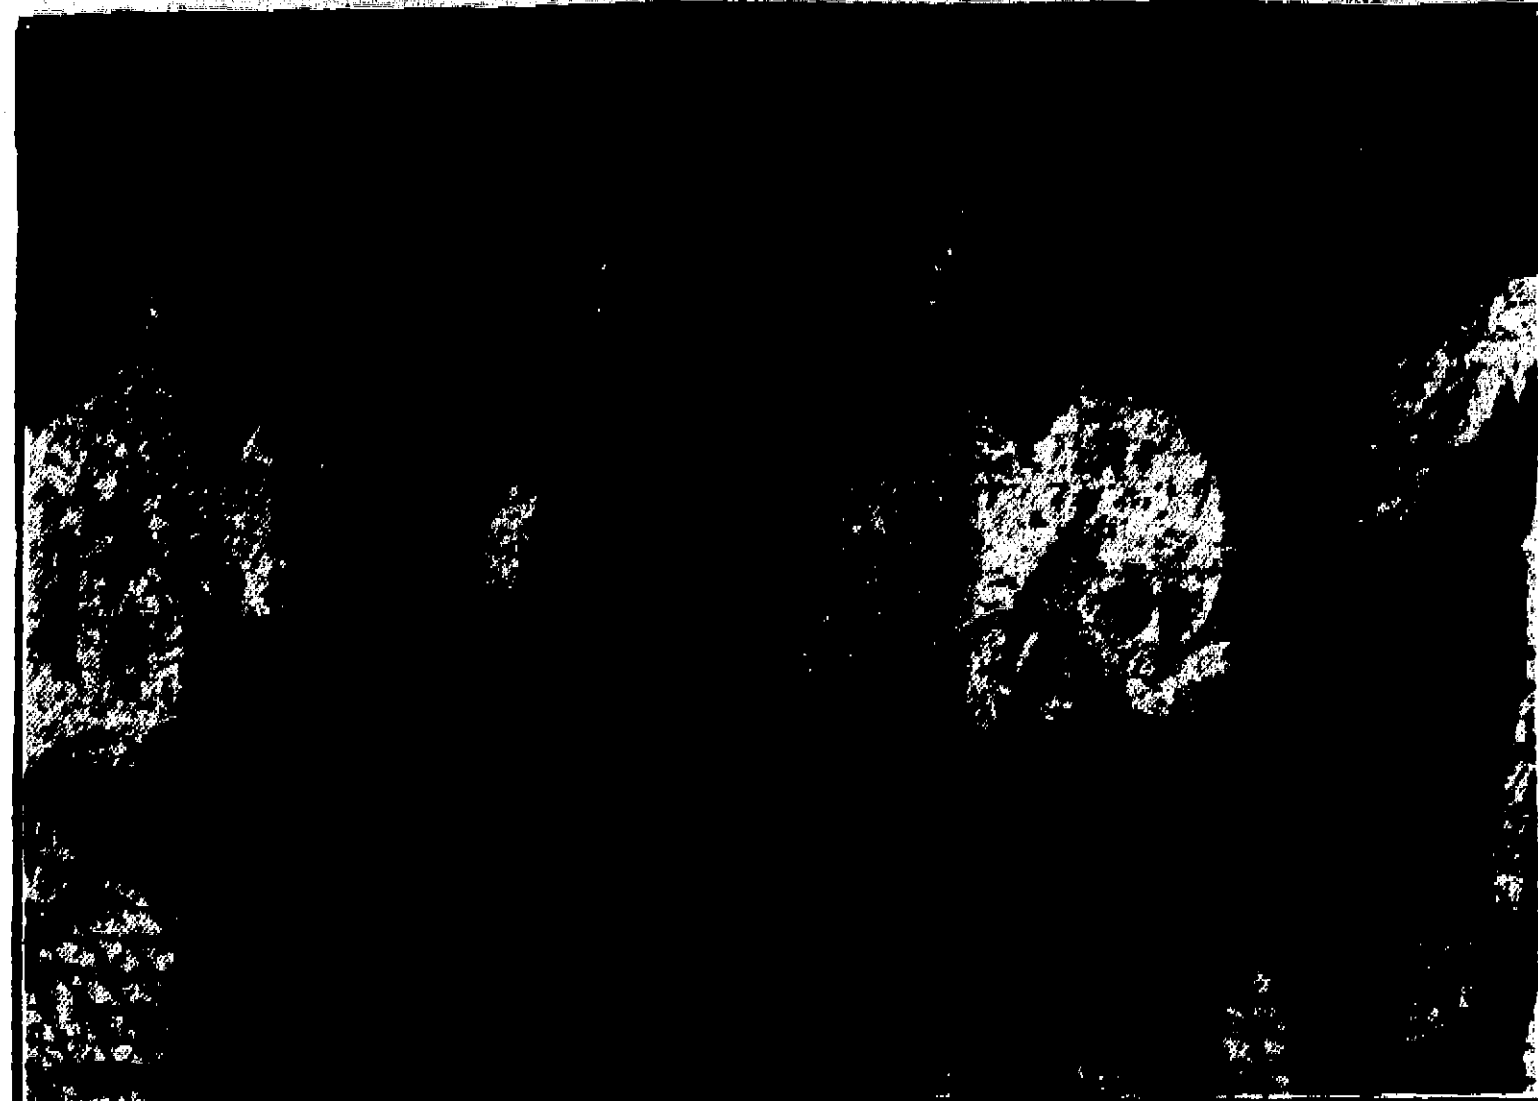

As for the Cubs, they seem to be facing the old question of balance. Any club looks great when it is winning and the Cubs looked even better than that when they were rushing through thirteen straight earlier in the year. Since then, however, they have dropped nine of their last 15, most of them on the road. The records seem to prove that the Cubs are not a good traveling club.

ARMAND EMANUEL TO FIGHT OLD MIKE IN NEW YORK DEBUT

Jewish Heavyweight Hailed as Greatest Pacific Fighter Since Corbett

New York, June 7.—Armand Emanuel, young Jewish heavyweight, makes his metropolitan debut tonight against the venerable Michael Francis McTigue in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

Emanuel comes out of the west labeled as the cleverest man of his weight developed on the Pacific slope since Jim Corbett's pompadour was flattened out.

McTigue is old enough to be Armand's father but is still carrying on after a fashion. Emanuel was only eight years old when Michael Francis began tossing leather as a professional. Armand is 22 and McTigue publicly admits 38 of his years.

ELIGIBILITY TO BE WATCHED

CONFERENCE STARTS PROBE OF ATHLETES' FINANCIAL SUPPORT

George Gauthier, Wesleyan Coach, Is Secretary of New Organization

Delaware, June 7.—Thorough investigation of the eligibility of every athlete competing on the team of its member schools will be one of the first steps to be taken by the newly formed Buckeye Intercollegiate Athletic conference, Coach George Gauthier of Ohio Wesleyan, newly elected secretary-treasurer of the organization, announced here today.

All athletes in the Buckeye conference have already been required to fill out questionnaires making detailed inquiries into the source of their financial support. Walter Livingston, director of athletics at Denison university, is to make a thorough study of the results of these questionnaires to find out whether or not any Buckeye athlete is receiving illegitimate financial aid to finance his college education. Coach Livingston will also investigate during the summer other phases of the eligibility standing of the Buckeye athletes.

"This is in line with the Buckeye conference policy of paying more attention to eligibility and scholarship standards," Coach Gauthier declared in making the announcement. "The scholarship eligibility standard set by the Buckeye conference requires not merely 12 hours of passing units but 12 hours of work averaging a 'C' or 'fair' grade."

YOUTH IS FAVORITE

The return quarrel tonight is scheduled for 10 rounds. Emanuel is a 6 to 5 favorite, not because he is a "hot tip" or anything like that but because McTigue, in his last two starts here, has appeared to be suffering from hardening of the arteries.

If Old Mike is in shape and chooses to make one of those stands that featured his encounters with Paul Herglenbach and Jack Harley a year ago last winter, he may make Emanuel out an ordinary heavyweight.

However, the Jewish boy will have the advantage of youth, weight, height and reach. He will scale about 180

Gas Plays An Important Part

If you, as an individual, were thinking of moving today, you would not so much as consider a house if it were not served by gas.

Industry is no different. When it seeks a new location it investigates, asking, first of all, if the city can promise an adequate supply of gas. Unless the city can both promise it and fulfill its promise, industry looks to other cities for more advantageous opportunities.

Marion's future growth depends on what the city has to offer industry.

Your Gas Company knows that a dependable supply of gas for the purpose is of utmost importance to Marion's industries. It is anxious to aid the city in giving this advantage to business.

All Your Gas Company asks in return is that you agree to pay for the gas in the form of improving production and safety on your farm.

Demonstration of Fire Apparatus at Crystal Lake Park Is Interesting Feature of Chiefs' Convention Program

A cold wind sweeping across the fields from the west with an occasional sprinkle of fine rain, did not discourage between 300 and 400 spectators, including local citizens and visiting fire chiefs, from enjoying demonstrations of fire-fighting apparatus and accessories given at Crystal Lake park yesterday afternoon as a part of the three-day convention program of the Ohio Fire Chiefs' Association.

The demonstrations were followed by dancing until 6 o'clock, when a picnic dinner was served to more than 400. The firemen's band of Columbus, which headed the procession from the convention hall to the park, furnished music during the afternoon and while the picnic dinner was being served.

That the convention here has been the largest and most successful of any yet held by the organization, was the consensus of opinion expressed by a number of the visiting chiefs called on by Chief D. K. Moser, of Warren, who presided as toastmaster at the meeting held following the dinner. Chief Moser here the distinction of being the oldest chief in point of service attending the convention, having served for 31 years as chief of the department at Warren.

The chiefs were liberal in their praise of both Chief McFarland and the members of the various local fire crews for the enthusiasm and spirit of cooperation shown throughout the entire convention.

Urges Publicity
Closer cooperation with newspapers in the matter of furnishing news of fire department activities, was urged by Leslie Post, of Lakewood, speaker of the evening, who talked on the subject, "The Value of Publicity to Fire Departments." The speaker urged that chiefs welcome the visit of the reporter and show a willingness to supply him not only news of fires but of every other activity of the department including fire prevention and inspection work.

Value of publicity was not over-estimated, the speaker declared. Because of the rain, the surprise piece of the fireworks display, given at the conclusion of the program, was a failure. A large piece which, when lighted, would have shown the portrait of Fire Chief McFarland, had been secured and was planned as a surprise to the chief. It, however, damaged the upper part and only a portion of the lower part was displayed.

The fireworks was displayed on the opposite side of the lake from the dance pavilion and was large piece, one bearing the words "Welcome Chiefs" and the other a large mill, burned successfully and presented a beautiful spectacle across the water. A display on the surface of the water was also a beautiful feature of the exhibition.

A wall of water pouring from seven nozzles and pumped by as many fire pumps, created a miniature Niagara Falls and was one of the most spectacular features of the demonstration given earlier in the afternoon. The four-line attachment made by the Akron Brass Co. of Woodbury, was the center of much interest. With four three-inch lines feeding water from the lake pumped by a 100-gallon Sengraeves pumper, a three-inch stream of water was shot from the three-foot nozzle to the height of a five-story building. The attachment could be controlled by one man.

Can't Life Saved
What was perhaps the most interesting of the demonstrations was the use of the H. H. Inhalator, manufactured by the Mine Safety Appliances Co., of Pittsburgh. It was used for resuscitation of a cat which had been overcome by carbon monoxide gas. A small building had been constructed of sheet-iron into which a pipe leading from the exhaust of an automobile had been placed.

The motor of the car was started and after a few minutes, the demonstrators, equipped with a gas mask similar to those used in mine disasters, entered the gas-filled building with the cat in a burlap bag. After a few minutes in the building the cat was released from the bag unconscious and placed on the ground and the rubber piece of the Inhalator placed over its face. In 30 seconds the animal began to show signs of life and in two and one-half minutes had been completely restored.

A demonstration of gas masks similar to the six which are a part of the equipment of the local fire department was also given. A smoke fire was started in the small building and the operator, wearing one of the masks, spent three or four minutes in the building. R. M. Miller, of the Central Fire Station also tested out the mask and remained in the building for such a long period it was feared he had gone to sleep and it was necessary to call him out.

Interesting demonstrations were also given by the manufacturers of Fomite and Fomite fire-fighting chemicals. A fire in a 30-foot pit of oil and gasoline was smothered out by foam from the Fomite apparatus in less than one minute. Into a mixed, connected with the fire hose and containing a divided hopper through the bottom of which the stream from the hose is passed, is poured dry chemicals from two containers. As these mix with the water, a foam is created which comes from the nozzle in heavy smoke and becomes a heavy blanket as it falls on the burning surface of the oil.

Demons-trations of three types of foam apparatus was given by the Fomite Co. An automatic extinguisher suspended above an oil pit, was set into operation by the blowing oil beneath. A 40-gallon Fomite engine was also demonstrated and a 12-gallon Fomite generator. Each was demonstrated on a separate oil pit and each proved decidedly effective. The foam apparatus are used only in oil fires.

NEEDS AID AGAIN

Man Re-arrested After 10-Cent Donation Gets Him Out of Jail

A FRIEND who came to his rescue yesterday morning with the payment of 10 cents, the balance due on a $50 and costs, will in all probability again be needed by Alta Green, who is locked up at police headquarters this morning on an intoxication charge, after having been released from the county jail yesterday morning.

Sent to jail on April 27 to serve out a fine of $50 and costs administered by Municipal Judge William R. Martin because of his frequent appearance in court on intoxication charges, Green yesterday morning had served out all of the fine but 10 cents and when a friend came forward with the dime, Alta was released.

Evidently celebrating his release from the county baillie last night, Green was again picked up by the police and locked up at police headquarters for intoxication. He will be arraigned before Judge Martin some time this afternoon.

CITY BRIEFS

Plunk Not Guilty—Peter Manley, arrested Wednesday on a non-support charge and in Municipal Court by his wife, Mrs. Mildred Manley, is being held at police headquarters under $1000 bond for a hearing at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Manley who pleaded not guilty to the charge when arraigned before Municipal Judge William R. Martin yesterday, is charged with having failed to support his two minor children since the first of January.

Reports Car Robbed—A. R. Frye, Woodbury, reported the theft of his 1928 Chevrolet, owned by the police at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Frye told the police his car had been taken from the intersection of E. Center-st and Grand-st.

Giorgio Perotto Issued—Building permits were issued from the office of the city clerk yesterday afternoon to Max Yarrington, 1152 E. Church-st, who will build a garage on Homer-st at a cost of $100 and to Henry Stauffer, 223 Cleveland, for a garage to cost $100.

Wanda Fraternity—John Bartram, son of John H. Bartram, 402 S. State-st, has been elected president of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, for the coming year. Bartram is a junior at Ohio Wesleyan.

FARMERS TO DEMAND AID IN PLATFORM

Drive, Popular in Midwest, Appears Doomed To Defeat, However

KANSAS CITY, June 7.—The first rumble of a major battle over the Republican platform for the 1936 campaign were heard here today as spokesmen for the Agrarian movement launched a drive for a McNary-Haugen farm relief plank.

Outraged by the farm relief plank, which will assemble here from every agricultural state, were outspoken in condemning a plank pledging the Republican party to the enactment of farm relief legislation, containing the equalization fee feature which President Coolidge vetoed in no uncertain terms. The drive, popular though it may be in the Midwest, appears doomed to defeat.

Dissemination feared

Aide from this farm relief fight, there appeared no other clouds on the platform horizon. Party leaders, deluged down to defeat. The followers of Herbert Hoover, by far the largest group in the convention, and the followers of President Coolidge, by no means a small group, were certain to oppose the plank demanded by the farm leaders. Together, these two groups dominate the convention.

In the face of such odds, the farm drive will go right ahead. Its leaders may have in mind a strategic move by which they will lose the fight for their pet plank but compromise by securing the nomination of a candidate friendly to their desired legislation. Such a decision by the convention would uphold President Coolidge, yet meet the wishes of the farm element.

Senator James E. Watson, Indiana's favorite son candidate for the Republican nomination, undoubtedly will lead the fight for a "McNary-Haugen plank."

Where great performance is Master Indeed!

Its performance has centered on Hudson the most dramatic public interest ever extended any car. Thousands, riding daily, are carrying the story world-wide.

They tell us that they travel faster in city traffic, because of flashing getaway, swift, smooth acceleration and instantaneous control that easy steering and four-wheel braking give.

This extra range and activity of Hudson power, as everyone knows, are advantages exclusive to the Super-Six principle and to its companion invention on which patents recently were granted.

In every phase of performance there is effortless ease, from its smooth, swift getaway, to sustained high speed, and back to the soft instantaneous stopping action of its four-wheel brakes. Power is so smoothly delivered in all ranges of performance that you are scarcely conscious of it.

With the development and increased capacity of the Super-Six principle came also the creation of a chassis engineered in every detail to provide safely, continuously and economically for the speed, power and safety of the motor.

A thrill, never to be forgotten, is in store for you when you take your first ride in the new Hudson Super-Six.

Firestone

TAKES THE MYSTERY OUT OF TIRE BUYING

Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires The Tire Supreme

Why should anyone buy tires without knowing who makes them?

The manufacturer who made your tires has a definite obligation to you and unless you know who he is, how can you be sure of getting your money's worth for the price you pay?

In line with the Firestone policy of reducing motoring costs—of constantly giving the car owner greater value—Firestone manufactures a tire to fit every purse and purpose.

Firestone has pioneered every important advance in building tire quality for more than a quarter of a century. Firestone built the first balloon tires and knew how to make them travel further, faster, safer and with greater comfort than any tires ever built, through a special process of saturating and insulating the cord with rubber gum—preventing internal disintegration by heat and friction. These Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have won every official record for speed, safety and endurance. Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires are the most durable and longest wearing tires in the world—and present prices on these wonderful tires are the lowest in history.

To obtain the utmost in quality, comfort and economy equip your car with the tire supreme—the Firestone Gum-Dipped Tire.

OLDFIELD

High Grade Standard Tire

Oldfield Tires are built by Firestone in the industry's most economical tire plants. They are the best values on the market because they have the advantages of Firestone exclusive manufacturing methods and special processes, all the economies of Firestone control of raw materials at the sources of supply—together with economical distribution direct from factories to car owners through the 30,000 Firestone Service Dealers.

You cannot get greater tire values anywhere in the world than you can get right in your own neighborhood from the regular service-giving Firestone Dealer who is a part of your business life, interested in everything that goes on in the community—and who is trained and equipped to give you better service.

The Oldfield Tire is the greatest value in standard tires. Firestone took over the manufacture and distribution of this tire from the Oldfield Tire Company, who for over four years sold it through its own dealers as the most outstanding tire on the market, securing a much higher price for the Oldfield than for any other high grade standard tire.

Now the Firestone Dealer can give you Oldfield Tires, at a price—the lowest price at which standard quality can be sold.

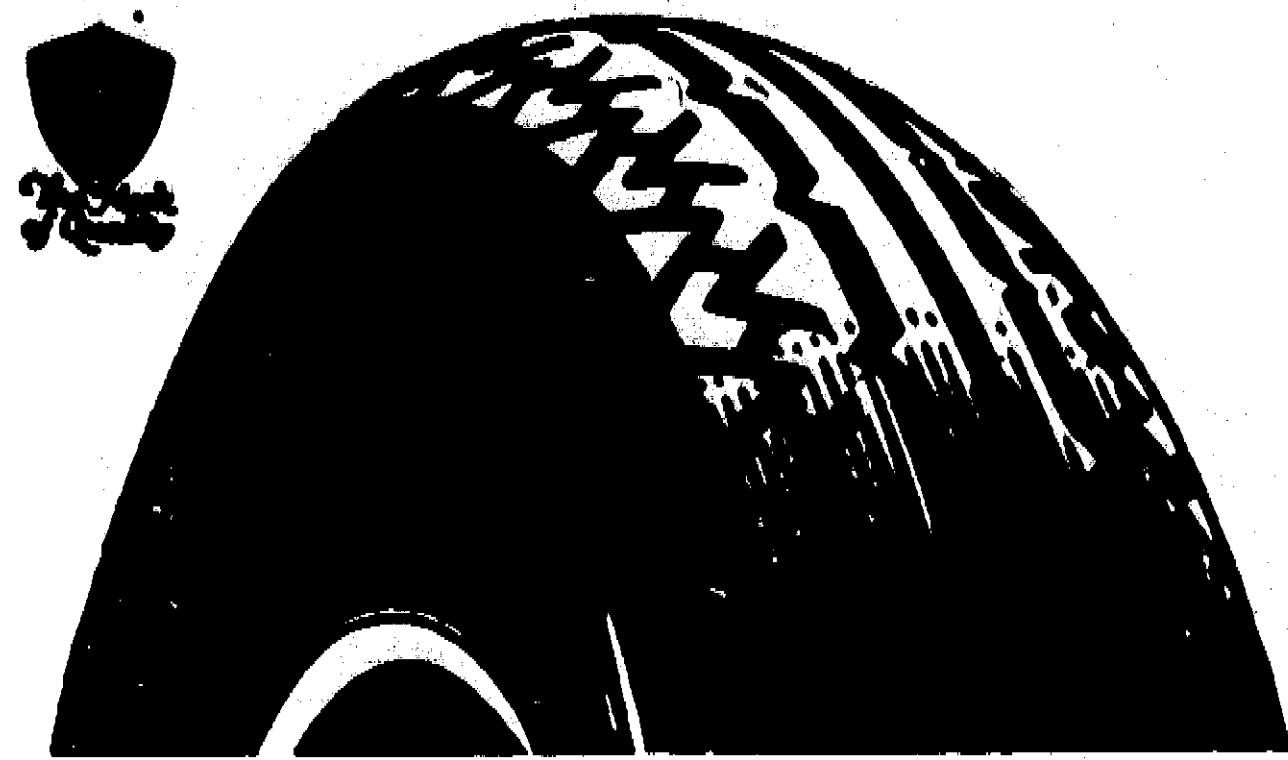

COURIER

Oversize, Low Price Tire

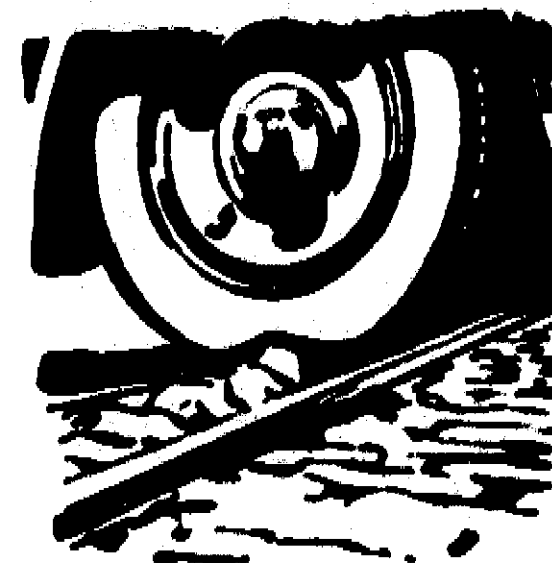

Firestone also makes and distributes direct to its dealers Courier Tires and Tubeas. These tires are oversize, rugged and the protected sidewall ribs prevent rut wear. In the low-price field they have no equal.

Don't experiment with tires the manufacturer of which you do not know and whose greatest sales argument is a misleading advertised mileage guarantee.

The Firestone Gum-Dipped Tire—the tire supreme; Oldfield, the high-grade standard tire, and the oversize Courier Tire, are all fully guaranteed from any defects of material and workmanship and whose average mileage records are known and hold all world records. This guarantee is backed by the largest exclusive tire manufacturer in the world whose reputation is to give you the greatest value for your money.

The Tire Supreme Holds All World Records

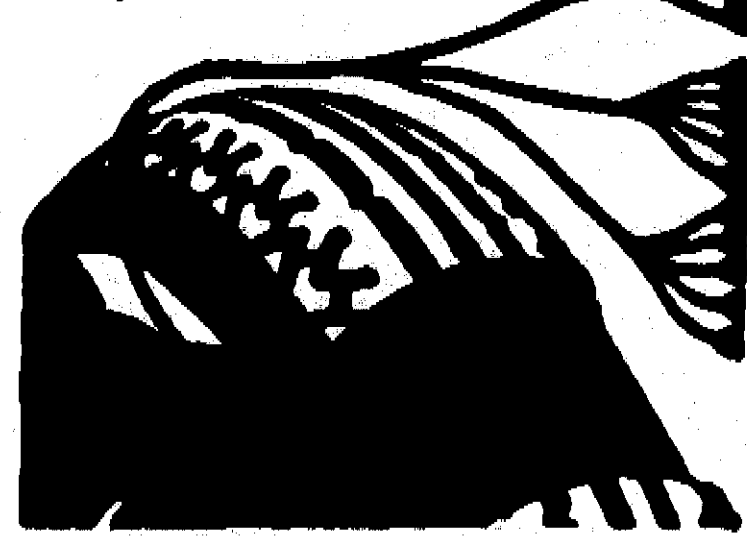

Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloons absorb every road shock without sacrificing long mileage.

Dirt track and endurance records—transcontinental runs—passenger, bus, car owner records—and taxi-cab mileages—are equally startling. Never before has a tire so thoroughly earned its title—"The Tire Supreme."

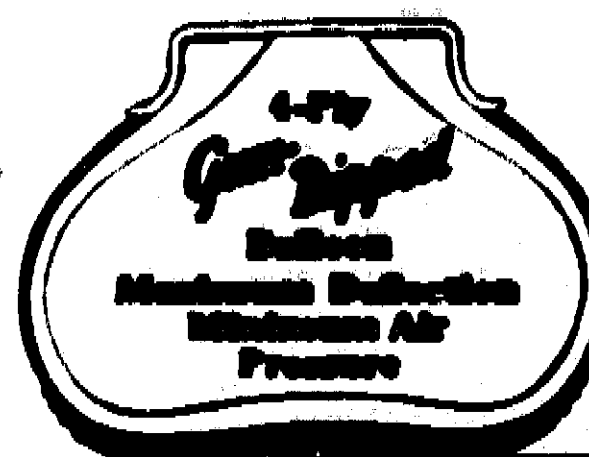

Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires hold all world records for Speed, Safety, Comfort and Endurance. They made the fastest mile ever travelled on wheels—207.55 miles per hour. They have won every National Championship race since 1920.

On Decoration Day, May 30, 1928, they won, for the ninth consecutive time, the famous 500-mile Indianapolis Sweepstakes.

A single cord of Firestone Tire stretched over 15 miles, composed of rubber of this quality—entirely natural rubber.

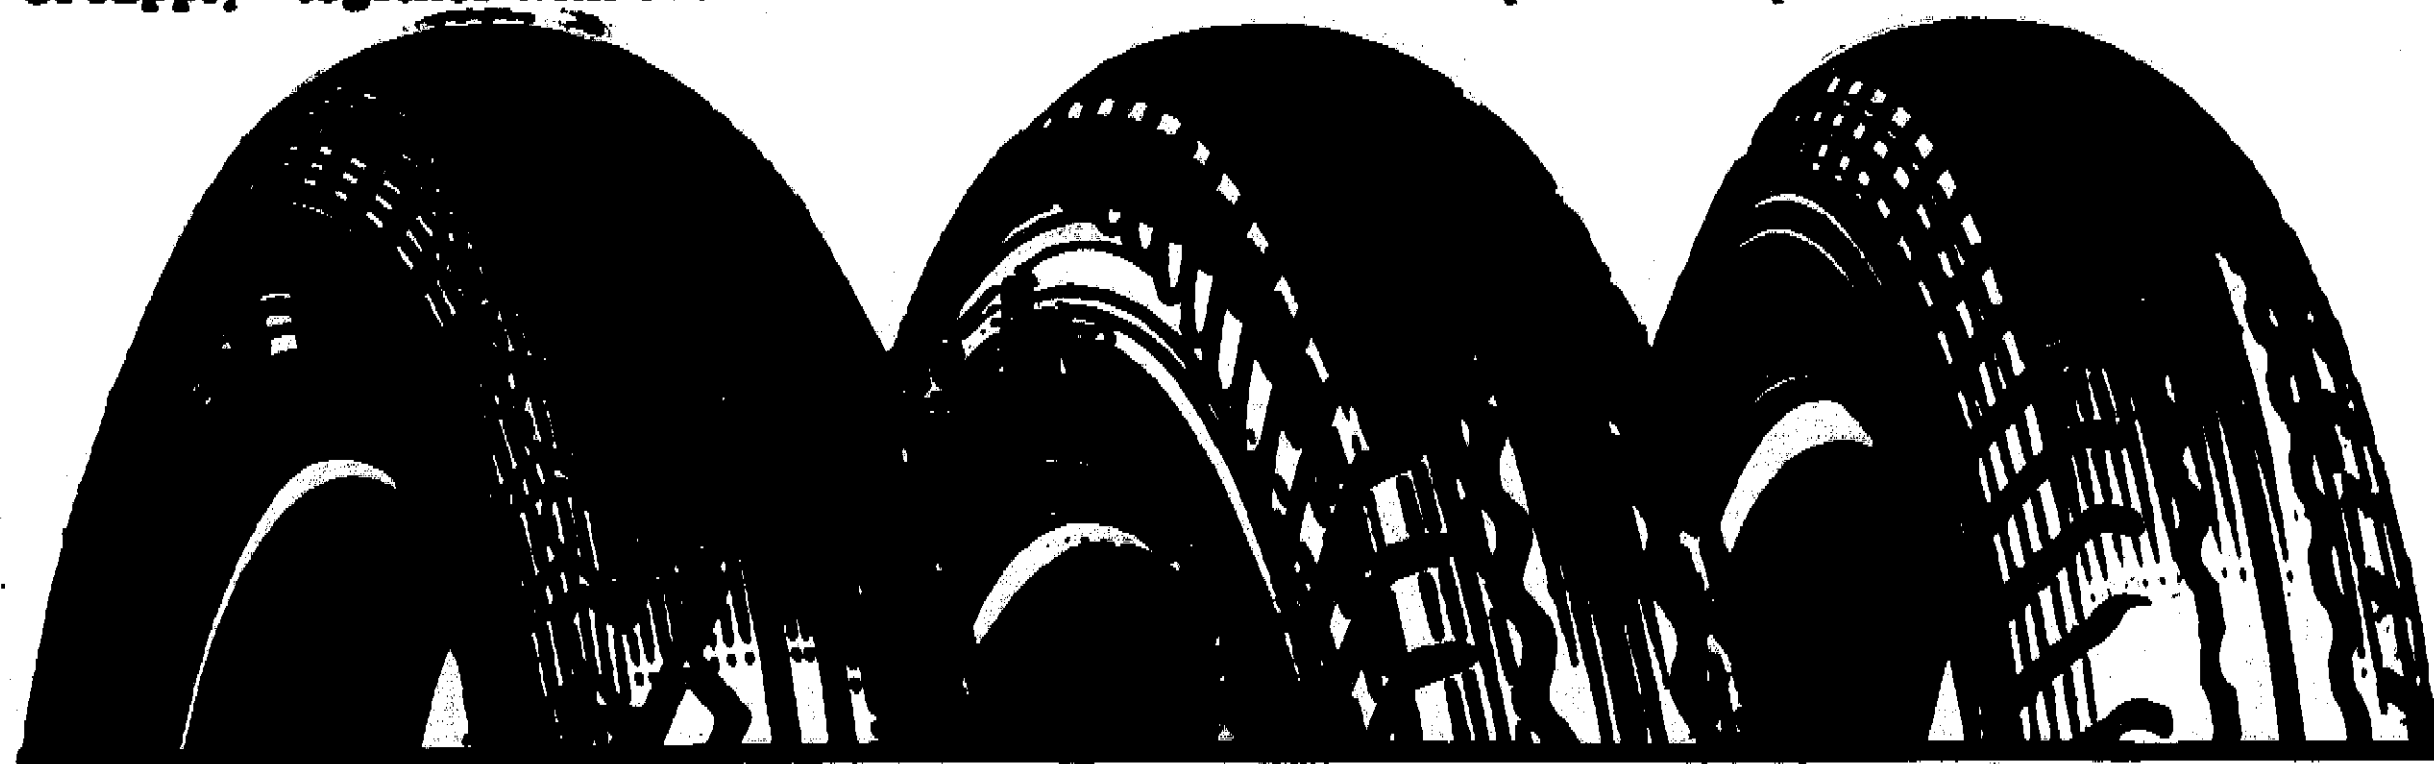

For Light and Medium Weight Cars

This tire is designed and engineered to the needs of the light and medium weight car. It is therefore extremely flexible, of limited ply construction, made unusually strong by the extra process of Gum-Dipping and uniformity in case. It is generously over-size and will give you greater comfort, safety and economy than any tire in the world of heavier and more bulky construction. Do not decrease your speed, increase your gasoline consumption or wear out your tires prematurely by putting a heavier size on your light or medium weight car.

For the Heavy Car

Firestone has also designed a special tire with extra plies of cord fabric and heavier and tougher tread, especially for heavy cars. Naturally, this tire requires additional air pressure, and while the cords are Gum-Dipped and these continue under load, yet its degree of deflection is less because of its heavier casing, thicker tread and necessary higher air pressure.

Since references to them are rather frequent just at present, it may be well to remember that Kaul is pronounced kau-l, with the accent on the "l," which is sounded like the "i" in pine, and that Ruva is pronounced ru-va, with the accent on the first syllable, the first vowel being sounded like the "o" in more and the second like "a" in father.

Let us not get funny over the fact that Mussolini has made compulsory the wearing of straw hats by Fascist students. They went hatless, to the disadvantage of the Italian straw hat industry, before the hatless disease was acquired by school and college youth over here. In any event, it may be well to recall the fact that the straw hat people tell us when to wear, and when to stop wearing, straw hats over here.

For Team-Work in Traffic.

Just a few words more regarding the safe-guarding of traffic.

A day's experience has demonstrated the superiority of the newly-installed lights over those they replaced, a superiority so decided as to be generally recognized after but twenty-four hours of their operation for the direction of traffic.

The city authorities have announced that there is to be in the future a more rigid enforcement of traffic regulations against residents than has obtained in the past. Let us hope that this announcement on the part of local officials, both court and police, is not idle talk, but that it will be adhered to rigidly.

The traffic lights are as good as any which may be had, and immeasurably better than some. The authorities say that the traffic regulations are to be enforced, as stated. With the possibility of the excuse that the lights can not be seen obviated, and with more rigid enforcement by the police, there should be an immense improvement in the traffic situation and added safety for both vehicle and pedestrian traffic.

Let the driver of a vehicle remember that at all times, save in the making of turns, he is to be guided by the light ahead of him on his right on the opposite side of the street he is about to cross.

Let the motorist proceed when he gets the green "Go" light in the same position and let him exercise care against traffic making turns, especially the newly-authorized left turn to which he has not been accustomed.

If motorists and pedestrians will work together in observing the traffic rules, it will prove helpful to both and reduce possibility of accident to a minimum. In so doing will seem work result to greater advantage.

What About a Local Airport?

Every encouragement should be given the members of the Junior chamber of commerce in the forwarding of their endeavors looking to the construction of a local airport.

The time is past when the aeroplane can be looked upon either as an instrument of warfare only or the plaything of the adventurous. Today it is recognized as a carrier of both passengers and freight, as a swift means of transportation between distant points. Today it is here to stay, and its use will be almost immeasurably augmented with each passing year. We do not expect it to replace the automobile within the lives of any now living, but we do expect to see its use for long distances closely follow the course marked by the development of the motor car. In other words, we expect to see the use of the aeroplane amazingly multiplied.

With such an outlook, every city worthy the name should be giving consideration to facilities for the handling of air traffic that it may be prepared for its development. Many cities are already prepared, and this city can not afford long to lag behind the course they have taken in this regard.

The members of the Junior chamber of commerce have shown fine initiative in looking forward to an eventuality as certain as the rising of tomorrow's sun. They are giving study and thought to the problem, and investigating the steps taken by other cities looking to the desired end. They have been gathering information which is valuable, and they should have the encouragement and backing of the entire community that their efforts for the benefit of the municipality may not be wasted. We wish them every possible success in bringing Marion to realization of the need of an airport.

Hope for Italia Revived.

The two announcements that a relief plane had found the members of the Fox Film corporation expedition, missing for weeks, safe at Point Barrow, and that the radio station at Udonok, Siberia, had received a message from Franz Josef Land, revives hope that the daring Italian air voyagers may yet be rescued. If the report of the radio S O S call is well founded, the matter of locating the Italia is greatly simplified. The absence of any word from the Italia and lack of any information whatever regarding its whereabouts have been the most disturbing phases of the situation confronting those engaged in the attempt to locate the dirigible and render aid. With the crew of the Italia alive and the territory in which it went down identified, the rescue of the members of the expedition shifts from a slight possibility to a strong one, if not to a probable eventuality.

All liquor export docks on the Canadian side of the Detroit river from Amherstburg to Belle river have been ordered closed by the Ontario government, exporters having been ordered to export no more liquor and receive no further shipments from the distilleries and breweries. Evidently the Dollars are able to make American vessels pay, despite the handicap they are forced to suffer under the unfair La Follette law.

A German scientist has invented a death ray fatal to a human, but it's hardly likely to prove satisfactory in present-day warfare, which is usually fought at a distance, as it has to be brought into close proximity to its target to prove effective. "CONTINUAL DROPPING WEARS AWAY A STONE."

To Treat Annoying Blisters.

Many a royal girl has been humiliated by having an unsightly "fever blister." Any sore about the mouth, for that matter, an eruption anywhere on the face, is a source of embarrassment to the victim. Fever blisters are vesicles or blisters, usually located around the mouth. They appear on the nose or elsewhere on the surface of the body. No matter where they are situated the condition is called "herpes."

This condition, while it comes at any time of life, is most common in youth. It may accompany indigestion.

Following a prolonged visit to the dentist, there may be fever blisters about the mouth. There is more or less unavoidable bruising of the lip in the course of a long dental session. This does not mean infection, although, if the teeth and mouth are in bad condition, there is this danger.

It is quite a common thing to have herpes in the course of influenza, pneumonia and other infectious diseases accompanied by high fever. "Cold-sores" are of the same nature and follow the common cold.

You will notice discomfort and even pain in the lip or affected part. This continues for several hours and gradually the sore spot gets red and swollen. Then a few small blisters form on the surface. They are filled with clear fluid.

Positive cure can be made by rubbing together, then the contents become milky. Next they dry up, forming brown or yellow crusts. After a week or so the scab comes off, leaving a red spot which continues for a time. The whole process takes about ten days.

Herpes isn't "catching" or infectious. Some persons seem to be predisposed to the trouble and are apt to have repeated attacks.

A discharging ear sometimes excites a similar condition on the lobe of the ear.

In children it may appear on the cheek. In rare instances it attacks the inside of the mouth, or even the eyes.

There are other attacks of herpes which seem to be a sort of reflex condition from some remote or nervous trouble. Tired men and women are liable to the trouble.

In the beginning of herpes the trouble may be headed off by applying some alcoholic lotion. Pure alcohol, spirits of camphor, borated alcohol, or cologne will serve this purpose.

Failing in your effort to abort the trouble, you should apply a powder of some sort. Boracic acid, bicarbonate of soda, and zinc oxide are useful.

Water and greases are harmful. The part should be kept dry. Saltpetre or alum applied to the sore spot will hasten the healing.

Keep your fingers off the sore spot. This is a good rule to follow all the time. The hands ought never to be applied to the face except when you wash it. Your hands come in contact with dirt, filth and germs. You can not avoid picking up material which is capable of poisoning the delicate tissues of the face.

Recurring attacks of herpes about the mouth should excite your suspicion. They may be due to bad teeth, suppurating gums, diseased tonsils, impurities in the nasal sinuses, gall bladder disease, or some other infection. If the fever blisters constantly recur, careful search should be made to locate the cause.

Editorial Comment.

A BLOW TO DEFENSE PLANS.

Congress, with famous cowardice, bowed before the threat of pacifist threatening and adjourned, leaving two great national defense measures stranded. These were the navy bill, authorizing construction of fifteen battleship cruisers and one aircraft carrier, and an army bill empowering the secretary of war to place educational munition orders with arms manufacturers.

Against the original delinquency of congress was opposed the approval of army and navy experts of recommendations by the president which would assure to the nation an adequate defense.

Secretary Wilbur and high ranking naval officers worked hard for the cruiser program. Failure of congress to act means a longer delay before the battle fleet can be strengthened to the point recommended by the president, a man of peace, but a man who knows that the government now has behind all the Washington treaty powers in the 10,000-ton cruiser class. The fact demonstrates how powerful the dangerous pacifist influence has become; and in time of stress what has the country to hope from this influence?

The army looks munitions—there is no question of this fact. Congress failed to approve the war department's highly recommended bill, which leaves the army without any immediate prospect of remedying its deplorable ammunition shortage. It also deprives the army high command of an opportunity to arrange for the quick manufacture of modern weapons of warfare in case of a national emergency. This bill would allow the war secretary to turn over small orders for new weapons and munitions to selected manufacturers, so their factories could be placed in readiness to go into production of munitions immediately at the outbreak of a war.

The blood of America's dead in the World war is on the heads of those who consistently fought for pacifism. These brave and gallant men died because they had not been trained and because they had not the implements and agencies of warfare demanded by the exigency which came to the country when Germany began her imperial drive for the subjugation of modern civilization. That blood cries shame and condemnation to every weak-kneed, selfish and blinded pacifist in America. Perhaps, because of these men and women, the nation again will have to pay a heavy price in blood and suffering in frenzied mortal combat where American soldiers shall have only their courage with which to face the lethal fatality of enemy arms.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

SELECTIVE MUMMIFYING.

Many will sympathize with the feeling that has prompted the Egyptian government to withdraw mummies of the Pharaohs from public to quasi-private exhibition in the Cairo museum. Still, it is not easy to draw a sharp line between the "ruler curiosity" which such relics gratify and the inquisitiveness of the savants who collect and scrutinize the trophies of the tombs with remorseless industry. The capture of Tutankhamen and his treasures was a most scientific, although high-class performance of its kind, but if one asks whether it was not, after all, so far as the king's dignity was concerned, just a glorified form of grave robbing, no ready reply is available, although everybody will admit that it would be folly to let riches be perished that throw such brilliant light on the past.

To the Pharaohs pried out of their coffins it is all one whether they are exposed to the gaze of a great archaeologist or to that of the old lady from Dubuque. Indeed, if the kings in their showcases could express a special aversion it would doubtless be for the whole clan of Egyptologists responsible for their exposure to the twentieth century. Yet these disturbers of their peace are the favored ones who have the passport. The dignity of the royal mummies is supposed to be unimpaired by the roving curiosity of the experts and of privileged visitors capable of appreciating the mortal remains of ancient dynasties exhumed from the Valley of the Kings to become museum specimens.—New York Herald Tribune.

Dinner Stories.

Woman Shopper—"See here, young man, there's a ladder in these stockings."
 Fresh Clerk—"Well, what do you expect for seventy-five cents, a marble staircase?"

Lawyer, noted for high fees—"I trust you profited by my advice."
 Client—"Yes, but not so much as you did."

Janet—"He's really clever; he carried the Lord's prayer on the head of a pin."
 Alys—"That's nothing; my Harry can make a complete turn on a night club dance floor."

First Undergrad—"What are you doing? Writing home for money?"
 Second Undergrad—"No."
 "Then why spend so much time over your letter?"
 "I'm trying to write home without asking for money!"

The Home of Genius.

BY GARRETT J. SERIVISS.

Where does the mind reside? It has not always been believed that the brain was the place, once it was supposed to be the liver. The heart, too, has had its advocates for this honor. Some have thought the body as a whole to be the seat of intelligence. But cerebral science has long taught that the brain is the throne of the mind, and specially the fore-brain. When the fore-brain may remain, or cut off from connection, the expected result, but the control of consciousness is lost, and the body gives only reflex responses.

It has long been held that the mental powers depend upon the peculiar conformation of the brain, upon the intricacy of its convolutions whereby a greater quantity of the "gray matter" which covers the surface is deployed. Thus it is said that a smaller brain may be more powerful and efficient than a larger one; it has been generally understood that this relationship of mental ability to cerebral structure, rather than to mere brain size, was confirmed by the results of post-mortem study of the brains of people whose life history was known. This may, in a general way still be true; but Dr. H. D. Donaldson, William Osler, the famous physician, G. Stanley Hall, the psychologist and college president and E. S. Moore, known for his wide interests in science and art, have held that the expected physical signs supposed to be impressed upon the brain by the influence of an exceptionally high intelligence have not been found.

After all, it would seem, the pattern of the brain convolutions is not revelatory of the reach and quality of the mentality supposed once to have reigned therein. Dr. Donaldson speaks of the brain appearing under the microscope as a "crude machine." The eye of the investigator fails to detect the subtle things which make it what it is, the individual chemistry of the tissues, the connection between the fine nerve cells and the blood.

And yet in those unseen things Dr. Donaldson believes "lie the power, control and regulation of the brain." But we see only the crude machine without being able to discern its finer parts. "In their fundamental structure human brains are found to be remarkably alike, and the variations in the convolutions are only incidental."

So the mystery of genius is thrown back into the darkness. Neither Gall and Spurzheim, with their elaborate brain-maps showing the location of all the faculties under the bony shell of the skull, like a geological chart of subterranean lodges, nor the brain anatomists, with their dissections disclosing the curious motor centers, nor the investigators of specially-selected brains bequeathed to science by their former possessors, in the hope that they by their might afford to us a future generation light on what was mysterious to themselves.

The source of their talents and genius—none of these has succeeded in finding out the great secret. The mind still defies analysis. It makes no marks of usage upon its physical instruments, genius leaves no fingerprints; after it is departed we can not even say with certainty, "Just here it did its work; these were its tools and there it sat."—Copyright, 1928, International Feature Service, Inc.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. G. MINTYRE.

New York, June 7.—Three female stars in the same number of years have quietly slipped into oblivion. All became alcoholics. In each case great patience and every effort was made to curb appetites through cures, sanitariums and but to no avail.

One forced audience at three opening to endure the agony of watching her through her scenes in a hiccup, blurry. She would away and fumble lines at impossible moments, and once at an out-of-town pre it was necessary to ring down the curtain the middle of a rhapsodic speech.

Another whose success was a Rialto le developed a penchant for has a theatrical bluntness put it "getting cock-eyed and quit the show." At intervals that became increasingly frequent she would go on a tranced spree and would be found locked her hotel room in a drunken stupor.

The third was less spectacular. She been described as a congenial alcoholic parents reported being victims of acute babbles to overcome her weakness and nerve pangs before audiences. But she avoided engagements, drank and in the end became hopelessly unprofessional appearance. She was what F. Wood calls "a bathroom drinker"—indulgent alone and in secret. This was her affliction and her character otherwise was less.

Broadway has been whispering for time of another star said to be travelling same route, although this may be just a rumor. For people so sensitive and highly strung alcohol is more dangerous than it is to average person.

It is but fair to chronicle that a majority of stars, both male and female, is comparatively little drinking. Indeed, heavy percentage are abstainers. The of excitement and glamour in which they stimulating enough. And they "think of public."

A retired actress has made a tidy fortune the past few years in the custom-made business. She employed fetching young legs girls to canvas office buildings, samples of shirtings. Those who secured customers were taken into the business there are now ten partners. Her net is $30,000 a year.

Automatic service is now extended to mer fruit drinks on west Forty-second and an automatic ice-cream soda fountain operating across from the Waldorf. With automatic coffee, serve-yourself suit, and hat shops clicking, a company has organized to install a chain of coin-in-the-standards. The idea may spread, but a metallic coldness. It may appease moderns, but there are old-fashioned folk want a little gossip and the human touch a news vendor along with purchases.

A New Yorker who circled the globe times has purchased a farm in Arkansas and is spending his remaining days wish him well, but venture the opinion will come the day when he will exclaim cry of a hoot owl for the bump of a street.

Speaking of travel, Manhattan is to be travel theater where only movies of scenes will be shown.

The most frequent American ocean liner is Gilbert Miller, a theatrical producer, and most frequent of the California coast is reputed to be Walter Wanger, a film-tive, who has made twenty round trips Hollywood in a year.

Walter Wanger is an example of the aura surrounding every man who who celebrated beauty. He is the husband of the Johnson, who sent masculine beauty in the days of the Midland. From his early times he is one of the high society in the film business. Yet inva people refer to him as "Justine Johnson hand."—Copyright, 1928, by the McN Syndicate, Inc.

The Michigan law—similar to the New R times law—which sends a man or woman to prison for life after the fourth conviction is a law with teeth. It gets more against criminal activity than any other that has been enacted by any other state in many years. Facing life imprisonment, unholiness characters of New York Michigan, if they have been arrested a time, flee to other states. When other adopt similar action a real offensive can against crime in the United States will begun.

News despatches say Chicago has begun to administer strong punches at law-breakers. Several hundred additional police have been put on the streets force the law, and close law. A grand jury is busy on other forms of law.

Too long has Chicago been content defensive warfare on crime. The time come for an aggressive campaign. It may the way for other cities.

Coal is a necessity for millions of it. It is cheap fuel for families all over union. Coal mine troubles are of too importance to be limited to state action. federal government should take a hand bringing about right relations between mine owners and miners. The proposal of "coal control" is a good one, and are great evils to be curbed and this can be done by the United States government.

It is said the advent of radio has 5,000 words to the English language don't need any more words, but we do greater sense of accuracy and order in them. It is said there are 450,000 words in the English language. Few use more than 2,000. There are perhaps millions of and women who do not use more than 1,000 different words.

Your Hands Speak

By Edna Wallace Hooper.

While you perform hundreds of commonplace tasks, everyone present watches your hands.

You pour tea. You open your purse. You shake hands with an acquaintance. You turn out on your gloves. All day long people watch your hands.

To your hands speak for you? Do they suggest dirtiness? They can be clean, capable and at the same time exquisitely kept with practically no effort.

Youth lotion rubbed into the skin, leaving your hands smooth and dry, so that you can wear gloves immediately after applying.

Just keep a bottle on your dressing table and one where you work (in your kitchen, your office or shop). Use it every time you wash your hands.

The pleasurable sense of feeling your skin so satiny and smooth is worth a whole lot more than a slight effort. The cost is trivial. You can get a large bottle of Youth Hand Lotion at any toilet counter, 60 cents—Ad.

Federation of Women's Clubs to Sponsor Sale

MEMBERS of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs are sponsoring the two-day sale hand-icapped by the fact that the sale will be held Friday and Saturday in the Emerson Building, 227 W. Center st. The display will include a selected array of these beautiful pieces of mountain handi-craft, which affords an interesting glimpse into the lives of their producers.

The mountain folk, whose keen sense of color combining and designing, and deft fingers fashioned these rugs, do their work in surroundings much like those existing when our first settlers landed in America. Although Americans, of the purest strain, they have come about who's who at the Kansas City Convention the price of furs or when the next fire lands. Their only touch with the outer world is a rare trip to the nearest settlement, trading over the mountains and through the valleys on foot to trade the products of their industry, hand-woven rugs, for the few necessities of life they require.

Are Old Craft
The hand-woven industry is disappearing and dates back to the earliest days of settlement beginning with those who arrived in the Maryland. The mountain folk live today under the same crude conditions, in squalid huts, but nevertheless, picturesque and, mostly built by their fathers years ago. Their furniture is made by themselves, usually of the branches of the rhododendron, which is plentiful and easy of access, and it is rare that anything of the kind brought to market. Aside from calico and denim that goes to make the clothing for the family.

The hum of the spinning wheel, the clack of the hand loom can be heard on hearing the cabs. No phones, no movies or radios. The chief pleasure is coming on Sunday, the "meeting house" and a rare revival.
